Additional Hearing Information:

The Division of Remediation believes it is necessary to add the PSC Metals Site located in the Richards Street area of North Knoxville, Knox County, Tennessee. This site was used for scrap metal operations from 1921 to 2010 and is currently inactive. Due to a transient homeless population there is potential for exposure to various contaminants. In September 2010, the division began evaluating the site under EPA's Site Assessment program to determine its potential eligibility for inclusion on the National Priority List of sites. Observations from the Site Assessment studies clearly indicated that the various media associated with the site and surface water have been significantly impacted by contaminants of concern from site activities. Contaminants of concern include Lead, PCBs, PAHs, Mercury and Dioxins which were found in site soils and sediment. The results of these studies lead to a recommendation from EPA for the site to be referred for immediate response activities by the EPA's Emergency Response and Removal Branch for a limited Time Critical Removal Action. EPA is currently in negotiations with the site owner to implement this response.

Subsequent to EPA's limited site stabilization response activities, the division will need to expand the site characterization to plan any necessary remedial actions for the various identified media at the site including site soils, groundwater, surface water, sediments and any residual off-site concerns. In order to complete the necessary remedial actions on the site, the division must amend Rule 0400-15-01-.13 List of Inactive Hazardous Substance Sites by adding PSC Metal Site to its list of sites.

Oral or written comments are invited at the hearing. In addition, written comments may be submitted to Robert L. Powell at the Division of Remediation, William R. Snodgrass Tennessee Tower, 312 Rosa L. Parks Avenue, 14th Floor, Nashville, Tennessee 37243, prior to or following the public hearing. However, the Division must receive comments in its Central Office by 4:30 p.m. (CST), October 22, 2014, in order to assure consideration.
